MEDICINAL

"Could Not Sleep."

Sleeplessness marks the very climax of human suffering. It is only a step removed from insanity. When sleep no longer restores the exhausted nature, the struggle with disease cannot last long. The starting point of the nervous disorders which produce ill-health and sleeplessness, is generally a diseased condition of the womanly organs. Restore these organs to sound health and the appetite comes back, the day's work no longer wearies, and sleep is sound and refreshing. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures diseases of the womanly organs. It stops the drains which weaken women; it heals the inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is a temperance medicine.

"My health has been poor for many years and I had taken a great deal of medicine, but it did me no good," writes Mrs. Rose Kennedy of Springfield, Adams Co., Wis. "Last August my health was very poor; I had no appetite and could not sleep. I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he kindly advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription.' I took five bottles of the 'Prescription' and one bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I feel like a new woman."

Cure sick headache by using Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

THE SOCIALIST DEMANDS.

The Socialist convention opened in Indianapolis, Ind., yesterday morning, with a discussion of the platform, which was reported Tuesday afternoon, the document being taken up, plank by plank, and every one exciting more or less discussion.

Interest centered in the question as to whether that part of the platform which demands public ownership of all public utilities, reduction of hours of labor, public improvements, to give the unemployed work, and equal rights for women, should be retained. These demands were known as "immediate demands," and some of the members opposed them because they are too radical, saying that they should be reached gradually and not all demanded at once. Prof. Herren headed the conservatives, but when a vote was reached the demands were retained in the platform by an overwhelming majority. The following clause was then added: "But in making these demands, steps in the overthrow of capitalism, and in the establishment of the co-operative commonwealth, we would warn the people against the public ownership demands made by capitalist political parties, which always result in perpetuating the capitalist system through the compromise or defeat of the socialist revolution."

The convention refused to strike out the resolution declaring the public schools and the churches to be under the control of the capitalists. One member declared that such references to the church would result in losses of votes among church members, but a delegate shouted: "Then let them get out of the churches!" and the vote was taken and the churches declared to be under the control of capital.

A bid for farmers' votes was made by declaring that their economic interests are the same as wage workers, but the plank raised such a storm that it was stricken out and referred to a special committee for revision.

The committee on constitution reported yesterday evening and presented the name of "Socialist party" for the new organization. Many of the delegates wanted the word "revolutionary" in the name and others wanted it called the "International Socialist party," but the committee explained that its object was to get rid of the word "democratic" in the present name, but the report was finally approved.

The most intelligent delegates feel that much time is being wasted, and they would leave for home were not they afraid that the radical element would run things with a high hand. A national secretary is to be elected and a place selected for the party headquarters, and at least another day will be required.

TRAIN HELD UP.

Four masked men held up the New York and Chicago express train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Calumet Heights, just across the Indiana line, at 8 o'clock last night. They secured no cash.

The robbers held open one of the baggage cars, thinking it the express car, terrorized the trainmen and passengers by shooting, and escaped in the scrub oak growth to the west, going toward Tracy, Ind. The robbery would doubtless have been successful if there had been a safe in the baggage car, as the robbers expected.

The train was brought to a stop by the swinging of a red light across the tracks. It was in a lonely place, with the open prairie stretched here and there with scrub oak. None of the trainmen made any resistance. The shooting kept up by the bandits effectively prevented them from making a fight or from following the men.

As soon as the train came to a standstill two men boarded the engine and placing revolvers at the heads of the engineer and fireman compelled them to uncouple the express and baggage car from the train. Then the engineer was ordered to go ahead about two hundred feet. As soon as this was done one of the robbers produced a stick of dynamite and placing one end at the door of the baggage car lighted the fuse. The explosion blew a big hole in the side of the car and in the floor.

The robbers compelled the engineer and fireman to get up into the car with them and a quick search was made for the safe. All the time the bandits were operating with the baggage car they kept up a constant fire to keep the crew in subjection and to compel the passengers to remain inside the coaches. Not finding what they sought, one of the men said:

"What will we do now?"

The other said: "Let's get out of this."

Both leaped to the ground and ran to the side of the track, climbed the fence, and were lost in the darkness. While this was going on, the other masked bandits were keeping watch over the train standing on the track. They fired frequently, but no one was hurt, the passengers remaining in the coaches and the crew making no sign of resistance. Just before the robbers who were with the engineer left the scene one of them watched the en-

A Minister's Good Work. "I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible flux, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.
